

Build Capability: Targeted Training & Development Programs

INTERIM America is dedicated to building organizational capabilities for sustained business competitiveness. Core to this issue is a formal training & development program that provides new skills and empowers client's business teams to routinely improve on profitability and internal operating results.

With this vital organizational need in mind INTERIM America has developed a series of custom developed training programs. These programs are highly interactive, industry applicable and facilitated by experienced executives who can speak from substantial experience.

Executive Programs - executive level work sessions to chart an industry leading course

- Market Leading Innovation
- Leading to Build Capability
- Designing a High Performance Plan
- Lean/ Six Sigma Executive Overview

Front Line Teams - methods and skills for front line teams to own and improve all operating results

- Business & Management Skills
- Leadership & Teams
- Project Management
- Root Cause Investigation
- Six Sigma- Yellow, Green, Black Belt

Management Operating System (MOS) - comprehensive programs to coordinate resources, assets, new skills and methods into one contiguous organization system for self generating improvement of all results

- Team Structures
- Business Improvement Planning
- Performance Systems Design
- Continuous Improvement
- Metrics & Financial Controls
- Progress Reporting & Reviews
- 30-60-90 Day Corrective & Improvement Actions

Certification Programs (organization) - a system that certifies the installation and use of new skills

- Custom developed programs outlined and drafted by the executive team, finalized with feedback from key front line leaders and delivered to the organization
- Certification programs that look to define the profile, skills, experience and abilities of successful industry-leading capabilities, formalized by applicable industry, level, role and department.
- A comprehensive body of knowledge organized with targeted training initiatives, testing for comprehension and methods to demonstrate organizational improvement.

The result - organization wide capability! For more information on training programs contact HR@InterimAmerica.com or phone: 803-547-9896